Two Hinman Straub Attorneys Promoted to Principals

Albany, NY – Two attorneys from the Hinman Straub law firm have been promoted to principals, the firm’s Board of Trustees has announced. Lori A. Sievers of Ballston Lake and Janet M. Silver of Albany recently earned the distinction.

Sievers, a member of the firm’s Health Law Department, joined Hinman Straub in 2003. She concentrates her practice on long term care, representing assisted living facilities, home care agencies, nursing homes and hospice providers in regulatory and licensing matters. She is a chair for the Capital District Women’s Bar Association and a member of the New York State Bar Association.

Silver, a member of the firm’s Government Relations and Education Departments, joined the firm in 2002. Her practice areas include state regulatory and legislative representation before state agencies, the Legislature and the executive office. Her areas of expertise include education, higher education, human services and technology. She currently serves on the Board of Directors of the Albany County Bar Association and is a member of the New York State Bar Association.

Albany-based Hinman Straub PC is a full-service law firm that provides individual, institutional and corporate clients with comprehensive legal and government relations services. The firm offers comprehensive expertise in an array of practice areas, including corporate law, education, estate and financial planning, government relations, health insurance, health law, labor and employment, life insurance and litigation.
